Impeach Nixon Papers School Department must be neutral says Superintendent

A Wilmington High School teacher has been instructed by the Superintendent of Schools, Walter Pierce, that Wilmington school property is not the place to circulate petitions asking that President Nixon be impeached. The school property is public property, Pierce has said, and must be kept neutral, politically.

The Wilmington teacher, who is said to have many years of service with the Wilmington schools, was reported to have been circulating the petition Tuesday. First reports said that pupils were being asked to sign. Pierce told the Town Crier that only teachers were being approached, and that this was done during lunch hour, as he understood it. There was also a report that a fifth grade teacher was involved in a somewhat similar activity.

Mr. Pierce was one of several persons who had received telephone calls on Tuesday about the activity. Both selectmen and members of the school committee were called. One selectman and one member of the school committee were said to have been in favor of allowing the petition to be circulated.

Pierce told the Town Crier that the School Committee makes policy for the schools, and that the Superintendent of Schools implements that policy. Current events can be and are discussed in class, Pierce said, but the teachers should present the discussion in a neutral way, in questions of political import, and that is the policy of the Wilmington School Department.

A PRESENT FOR THE COMMUNITY FUND: Joe Steen, Grand Knight of the Fr. Edmund W. Croke Council, K of C, presented a $300 check this week to the Wilmington Community Fund, which was accepted by Fund Treasurer Dick Duggan.

The presentation is a part of the Community Activities of the Council for 1973, and it was no accident that the presentation took place before a picture of the late Fr. Croke.

Planning Board tells Selectmen Urgent need for Wilmington Square By-Pass

The Planning Board, Tuesday night, wrote a letter to the Wilmington Board of Selectmen telling that board that they were in favor of a Wilmington By-Pass for Route 129 which went to the north and east of Wilmington Square. The opinion, they said, was unanimous.

The Planning Board also "respectfully requested" that the Board of Selectmen formally petition the State DPW to "pursue this matter." There is, the Planning Board said, an urgency in the situation, in that before the new road is completed there may be more buildings erected in the proposed right of way.

The last Steam Train?

Not for about 22 years has there been a "steam train" in Wilmington center. The railroad right of way - once that of the Boston and Lowell, is probably the oldest (1835) in New England in point of service, but like all other railroad rights of way, today it is served by diesel power.

About sixty persons were at the depot Saturday morning, to watch Engine 759, a 4-8-4, pull nine passenger cars loaded with railroad buffs on their way to Montpelier, Vermont. Nearly everyone of the sixty or so was taking pictures, but a few were there merely to look.

Engine 759, with its cinders and smoke, was built for the Nickel Plate Railway, back in 1944. It is owned by the Steamtown Foundation of Bellows Falls, Vermont.

Hundreds of railroad "buffs" paid $50 apiece to ride on the train, on what might be its last trip. The trip was for two days, from Boston to Montpelier, Vermont, and then back down the Connecticut River Valley, and over to Fitchburg, then back to Boston.

The engine is to be retired at the end of the year. It can no longer pass the examinations placed on that type of locomotive by the government, and the Steamtown Foundation doesn't have the money for the expensive repairs needed.

A mystery in the Colonel Harnden Tavern

The Open House for the Colonel Harnden Tavern, in North Wilmington on Sunday was a tremendous success, if numbers are used to measure success. Literally hundreds of Wilmington residents went through the old home, and heard the young ladies who were acting as hostesses, along with Shirley Callan, of the Wilmington Historical Committee.

Wilmington Minute Men were present, too, in uniform. On the day before the entire company had turned out, to clean all the windows of the building.

To this writer, the Open House presented new problems of a historical nature.

The visitors were told that the house dates from 1775, and that the builder was Ebenezer Jones. It was acquired by Captain Harnden in 1795, and then in 1818 by Dr. Silas Brown, after which it became the property of the Hathaway family.

So far, so good - but -

On September 3, 1880 the Rev. Daniel Noyes of the Congregational Church of Wilmington delivered the first of two historical addresses, on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of Wilmington. A second was delivered on the next day, both presumably from the pulpit of the Congregational Church. Afterwards, by town order, those addresses were printed, and they remain today the best historical evidence of early Wilmington, in print.

It is quite evident that the Rev. Mr. Noyes was a careful student. He had lived in Wilmington only about three or four years, but he was delivering an historical address to the grandsons of the people who had built the homes and settled in Wilmington - and of those who are today represented by the Wilmington Company of Minutemen - those men who took part in the War of the American Revolution.

His listeners were not there to be amused. They were there to listen critically to an account of their forebears. If there were errors those errors were quite evidently corrected before the "addresses" were set to type and printed.

The Rev. Mr. Noyes states quite clearly, without equivocation, that the Harnden Tavern was built in 1795 by Colonel Joshua Harnden. The Wilmington Historical Committee says it was built in 1775, by Ebenezer Jones. There are deeds, which they have seen, to prove it.

(The Jones family lived further north, on what is today Andover Street, about 1 1/4 miles distant. Today the Jones family farm is the Knollwood Farm. One of the men of that family, serving as a Lieutenant in the French and Indian War was killed at Ticonderoga, along with eight men under his command.)

So there seems to be a direct conflict between the statements of the Wilmington Historical Committee and the statements of the

Or is there?

There is some evidence to consider, right in the cellar of that old home.

The first item is the chimney. Some of the bricks in the foundation are what used to be known as Bristol Brick. Bristol Bricks were made in England, and loaded as ballast in Bristol, before ships left that country for the colonies. They would be unloaded, say in Boston, when lumber of other material was loaded to take back home. The Bristol Brick can be recognized by its hard texture, and regular size.

Bristol Brick were regularly used in the Colonial homes, in fireplaces, while the remaining bricks would be home made, in local claypits, and of a softer and more irregular texture. They can be easily recognized by persons who know what they are looking for.

There are soft (i.e. Colonial) brick in the Harnden chimney, both near the bottom and in the attic.

There are also Bristol Brick, in the foundations. In that cellar are several magnificent arches, the foundation of the chimney, in which both Bristol and Colonial bricks can be seen.

In Wilmington houses which seem to have been built in the 1800-1820 period have arches such as are seen in the Harnden Tavern.

The Nichols Funeral Home is a good example, as is the Dr. MacDougall home, across the street on Middlesex Avenue. Another example is the old Masonic Hall in Tewksbury, the Kittredge-Gray House.

These seem to be the work of one man, one mason, who was working in the area before and during the War of 1812.

If the Harnden Tavern was built in 1795, as says the Rev. Mr. Noyes, then the unknown mason who built the chimneys in the Nichols Funeral Home etc. could have been the same mason in the Tavern. And, as shown below, there could be a good reason why he used Bristol Brick, as well as the home made variety, in the foundation.

Another puzzle in that cellar is to be found in the foundation stones. Under the sills are long pieces of a light gray granite which have been "faced" - i.e. there are no visible chisel marks.

In Colonial and Post Colonial days, in Wilmington, stone masons used to cut their stones in the fields near their work. They used a flat chisel. Without going into detail, all such stones were so cut, and knowing persons can point out today to places where stone masons worked several hundred years ago, as well as to the foundation stones that they cut.

WILMINGTON MINUTE MEN AT CONCORD: Sunday. Each company of Minute Men, in Middlesex County, takes one Sunday a year to "mount guard" at the Concord Battle Ground.

Last Sunday was the turn of the Wilmington Company of Minute Men, and while some Minute Men were acting as guards for the Open House of the Harnden Tavern, the rest of the company performed duty at Concord.

The Minute Men are shown standing to a Tattoo, at sundown, as the National Flag is being lowered, with the Minuteman flag at a dip, the privates presenting muskets, and the fife and drummer sounding Tattoo.

It was just a dress rehearsal

ASSEMBLE THE FACTS - THEN YOU GET THE LICENSE. That was a headline in the Town Crier, last week, concerning Nova Devices, of Woburn Street.

There should have one more line - PROVIDING THE DATE OF THE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENT IS CORRECT.

By reason of an almost incredible series of events, the date of the Town Crier advertisement was wrong, for that hearing. Part of the reason is that in Massachusetts many holidays are now being observed on a Monday, and two such holidays were observed in October. Part of the reason is that no one noticed that there was an error, of one day, in the advertisement.

It wasn't the fault of Nova Devices, and that company, which went through a public hearing in the Town Hall, with a staff of experts, must now consider that hearing as having been just a dress rehearsal.

A sharp eyed reader of the Town Crier called up, after the hearing, to say that the printed date was wrong. She was right, and every one else was wrong!

The date of the "new" hearing has been set for Nov. 12, in the Town Hall, at 7:30 pm.

THE CHIMNEY LEANS TO THE SOUTHEAST: As can be seen in this picture, taken while a group of Wilmington residents await their turn to tour the Harnden Tavern, Sunday.

Yankee chimneys, as they get along to the second century mark have a tendency to lean to the southeast. Two hundred years of morning sun, shining on cold summer chimneys do this. The morning dew evaporates faster on the east and south sides, and causes a chemical reaction that erodes brick and mortar.

If the sun rose in the west the chimney would lean to the west.

New bicycle law effective in December

A new statewide bicycle law will soon go into effect in Massachusetts. Based on a bill sponsored by Senator William I. Saltonstall (R-Manchester), the bicycle safety law was recently passed by the state legislature and signed by Governor Sargent. The new law gives bicyclists the clear right to use the streets and roads and requires them to follow the rules of the road for vehicles. The law will take effect in mid-December and will apply to all streets and roads in the Commonwealth.

To provide a safe place to ride in the absence of bike paths, the new law allows bicyclists to ride on sidewalks outside business districts, except where specifically prohibited by local ordinance.

The new law provides that all new bikes sold in Massachusetts after January 1, 1974 will be required to have effective brakes, a front-facing colorless reflector, a rear-facing red reflector, pedal reflectors visible from both front and rear, and additional reflective material on each side of the bicycle. After dark no bike - new or old shall be operated without front, rear, side and pedal reflectorization.

In addition to requiring the bicyclist to follow the rules of the road, the new law gives special protection to the bicyclist by providing that for insurance purposes the bicyclist shall be considered a pedestrian.

Violators of the rules of the road and equipment provisions may be fined up to $20 depending on the severity of the offense. Police officers will have the option to give violators either a warning, a non-criminal ticket, similar to a parking ticket, which can be paid by mail, or a court summons. If the violator is under age eighteen, the officer may impound his bike for fifteen days.

SATURDAY MORNING CLASSES AT SHAWSHEEN

In an unprecedented move, the School Committee at Shawheen Tech has agreed to extend the Adult Occupational Education Program to Saturday mornings.

The new time policy and expansion of classes was necessary due to the increased enrollment and long waiting list. Adult evening courses are offered at Shawheen Tech, Monday through Thursday in various shop programs geared for trade preparatory and trade extension. Since the voc-ed facilities are utilized to the limit, with a full day program and afternoon supplementary occupational program, the Saturday morning time frame was necessary.

Classes will start on November 3 with the following areas in operation: Automotive, auto body, carpentry, electrical, small engines, welding and keypunch.

Classes will be in session from 8 a.m. to noon. With several vacancies available, interested citizens in the five towns are urged to contact Director Childs at 667-211 or to pre-register Monday through Thursday at the school, 100 Cook Street, Billerica from 7 pm to 10 pm.

Joining a saw is the process of restoring all the teeth of a saw to the same height. Low teeth do not cut and high teeth dig in and may cause the saw to jump or buckle.

A saw is jointed by filing down high teeth to the same level as the low teeth. To joint a saw, place a mill file flat upon the teeth with the length of the file parallel to the length of the saw.

Run the file over the full length of the saw until the file touches the tops of all the teeth.

Full supplies of building materials are available from Sweeney Home Courtesy Center, 615 Main St., 658-2051. We have "Everything to Build Anything" including lumber, plywood, doors, windows, paneling, hand and power tools. Personal service is given everyone. Stop down and see us for supplies and advice from 8 am to 5 pm daily.

Helpful Hint: A slotted piece of wood for holding the file blade makes jointing a saw much easier.

Did Wilmington Act too Quickly?

A week or so ago the Governor signed into law a bill which allows municipalities to have their own CATV stations, and to sell bonds to finance such stations. The bill seems to have been directed towards towns that have municipal light departments, such as Reading and Wakefield.

The Town of Reading may now go into a business that seems to be lucrative, judging by the way that the private companies fight for franchises.

Reading may now operate its own CATV company, and sell TV programs to the householders, for their Boob Tubes. Residents will pay monthly, and instead of the money going into the pockets of some corporation in Providence, Rhode Island, or points west, it will be going into the Treasury of the Town of Reading, and possibly may help to reduce the tax rate of that town.

Neither Wilmington nor Tewksbury could seemingly go into the CATV business, as things now stand. The law could be amended, with a little assist from the local legislators.

The Tewksbury selectmen have, as yet, to award a franchise. Maybe this is a good thing for the Town of Tewksbury, if the cards are played correctly.

The Wilmington Selectmen, about 18 months ago, awarded a franchise to an out of town company. The Wilmington treasury won't gain a thing from CATV except for a property tax (maybe) on the wires.

It is quite possible that the Wilmington Selectmen were too hasty.

Centralized government a must for Tewksbury

Tewksbury's Citizens for Modern Local Government (CMLG) is in the midst of a drive to have the 1974 town meeting create a charter commission to investigate a new form of government for the town. It is to be hoped that residents will join or support CMLG in this endeavor.

It is doubtful if any group knows better than the press the degree of inefficiency and confusion that exists in Tewksbury's present form of government. No other part of the community has the time or motivation to attend regular meetings of almost all town boards, few persons read all press reports on local government activities, and with space limitations there isn't always room in news stories for detailed explanations of why officials act as they did.

Reporters all too often watch as a particular board takes a justifiable action, only to be attacked by members of another board shortly after news of the first board's action becomes public. A series of skirmishes usually follow then, culminating in someone from one board attending a meeting of the other, at which point everyone learns no one knew up until then what anyone else was doing.

Sometimes these battles give frustrated officials a chance to blow off a little steam, but occasionally the public good may be unalterably harmed before the last shot is fired, and residents suffer because of the predilection of some officials to attack first and seek explanations later.

The ill affects of decentralization were brought home to residents recently during the mess over Liquid Carbonic Company's need for million gallons of water for use in their expanded production facilities on Shawsheen Street.

When the firm moved to Tewksbury a decade ago, executives told town fathers they planned to expand the plant before long. Last year the firm made plans for a $2 million addition, and later contacted several town boards and the building inspector about matters involving construction of the addition. Work began on the addition, and a great deal of money was spent on new equipment for it.

Because Tewksbury's government is so decentralized, it wasn't until representatives of Liquid Carbonic went to the water commission last month that they learned the town apparently hasn't enough water to supply the firm's increased needs. If the town had more centralized government, representatives of the firm would almost certainly have learned their potential for expanding was doubtful when they first talked to town officials last year.

It is probably impossible to estimate the cost of inefficiency spawned by the town's decentralized present form of government.

Voters got one inkling at the 1973 town meeting when the road commissioner asked for a $205,000 addition to the highway garage. Although road commissioners said the addition included space needed for water department vehicles, the water commission nevertheless asked for $80,000 to expand their garage.

Voters might wonder how often one town department is unable to provide vital services because it lacks equipment that may be gathering dust in another department's garage, or how often employees of one department may have nothing to do when similarly skilled workers in another department are too few to efficiently handle a given situation.

CMLG backed a charter that 53 percent of the voters at the 1972 town meeting disapproved because, among other things of fears the cost of implementing it would be too great. Few comments were made at the meeting about savings that might have resulted because of centralization of the town's government.

Whatever the history of past attempts at modernizing Tewksbury's government, the need for more centralized control of town affairs is obvious. A new charter commission will give voters a chance to at least consider another way of achieving this.

The cost of a Town Manager

During the past few years two municipalities of which this column knows have played with the idea of instituting a Town Manager (Town Administrator) form of government. One of these was Tewksbury, where 47% of the voters were in favor of the change. The other was a town in upper New York state from whence came a series of after-the-event letters to the editor, seeking information. In that town too, the Town Manager form of government was defeated by a small margin.

It is noteworthy that in both instances the same kind of mis-information was given to the voters at the last moment. In both cases the high cost of the proposed type of government was cited.

To change from one type of government to the other, the voters were solemnly told, would cost $150,000 - $160,000 a year. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Wilmington is a good example of a Town Manager form of government. The Town Manager is paid about $23,700 a year. He has a secretary who is paid $12,000 a year, of which $10,500 to $11,000 is for work as the Town Treasurer. In other words the direct cost of Town Manager government in Wilmington, is $25,000 a year.

There is no doubt, in this column's thinking, that the Town of Wilmington is repaid by a sum of money higher than the cost, every year.

Town Managers are not necessarily the finest and the best of everything. Wilmington had one Town Manager who was so bad that this paper called him The Bump on the Log. Wilmington is still paying, a dozen years later, for his mistakes.

And Wilmington has had Town Managers who have saved the town tremendous sums of money, and who have increased the efficiency of the town government by a large degree.

The point of all this is that there are serious persons in Tewksbury who believe that the first thing to do in that town is to clean up the various departments, and then get a Town Administrator to administer the government.

Get a Town Administrator, and let him clean it up. He can do it, and the people of Tewksbury will not only save money, but headaches too.

Tewksbury Teenbits

by Kathy Heider

On October 25, a benefit dance was held at the Andover Country Club for Linda Lemelin who is paralyzed from the waist down as a result of an auto accident on Labor Day weekend. The dance was Linda's aunt's idea, and according to Mark Singleton, he, June Farice, and the many other persons who helped make this dance such a success, collected approximately $4,500 at the door, and more on raffles. The admission was $5 a person, and the dance got underway at 8 p.m. and almost everyone stayed until the event ended at midnight.

Mr. Perault's Mass Media class is learning how to use a movie camera without students films having a "home movies" look. They are also learning how to splice their films so that they can take out the bad parts, and no one would know. Most home movies are either too far, out of focus, or the camera is jumping. Mr. Perault is teaching his class how to avoid this. The best light is sunlight; you must keep the camera in focus; and to stop the camera from jumping, set it on a tripod. Mr. Perault's class is broken into five groups, and each has one full day to borrow the camera and shoot a three minute film. The film can be on any subject, as long as it carries a message. Initially students make a test film to see how the camera works, and later, each group will film a ten minute movie with all the appearances of a professional production.

"Consumer's Corner" new Town Crier column

Tim Lemieux and John Mella, two local men who make a hobby out of protecting consumers for free, have found the response to a Town Crier article about their activities so great they plan to write an occasional column in this paper, "Consumer's Corner," to aid readers with consumer problems.

Readers with such problems can write to Tim and John's organization, "Personal Consumer Information," in care of the Town Crier, Box 460, Wilmington, Mass. 01887. All letters must be signed, although only initials of consumers will be used when they are answered in Tim and John's column.

YOU JUST PULL BACK ONE OF THE BALLS LIKE THIS: Shirley Pumfrey of 38 Forest Street Wilmington bought a toy, for $1 at the Wilmington Grange Fair last Saturday that will keep any man or boy happy for hours. Five steel balls, suspended so they just touch each other. You pull one out, and let it go, and the ball on the other end "bounces" out exactly the same distance. You pull out two balls, and two on the other end then "bounce." Great fun!

Letters

Dear Larz:

I am told that 1881 was the year when nails finally got so cheap that a carpenter couldn't pick up a nail when he dropped it - it was less expensive to just grab another nail. I gather that about 1927 was the year when the carpenter decided he couldn't afford not to pick up the nail - that was the year the carpenter bought a Model T.

I guess 1973 was the year that 18-year-olds discovered that they could legally drink and chuck all their empty beer cans and bottles out along the roadside. I hope that these youngsters learn before 1974 goes too far that the class can ruin their tires as well as yours and mine, and I hope they stop throwing out the bottles in front of your driveway and mine. It's tedious work to sweep it up every weekend.

Middlesex Ave. Sweeper

Dear Larz:

Each week I look forward to receipt of the Town Crier for two reasons:

First to get the latest news on the progress in carrying out the Comprehensive (Master) Plan - which I was privileged to help the Planning Board prepare. Adoption of an "Official Map" was a great accomplishment and actions in recent weeks to actually build a "Main Street By-pass", after some twenty years of effort are most encouraging.

Second to read your latest article on what you call an "old story of Wilmington." As a history "buff" myself (currently President of the Cambridge Historical Society), I find those pieces very worthwhile. In the one in the October 25 issue you acknowledge a mistake in the name of Harrison Allen Sheldon. Dare I suggest that in that same piece, near the bottom of the first column there was another mistake? This is the first I ever heard of Asa Sheldon filling in what is called Back Bay. Don't you mean that he moved the top of Pemberton Hill into the former marsh between Haymarket Square and the North Station?

Sincerely,
Charles W. Elliot
Thank you! You are quite probably correct. Traditionally the people of Wilmington spoke of Back Bay, but it was in what is now Pemberton Square that Asa G. Sheldon set up his blacksmith shop and hired John Perry to do blacksmith work. That was the blacksmith shop that was moved to Wilmington, later, along with Mr. Perry, who bought the farm that eventually became the farm of Herbert C. Barrows.

Santa Claus is coming to Town

Possibly it was the State Alcoholic Beverages Commission, possible it was some other state agency, but the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in its wisdom has decreed, (several years ago) that liquor stores may not use Santa Claus in any form, in advertisements.

Quite probably someone at the state level believes that using Santa Claus in that way may possibly entice the little darlings to imbibing in those vile liquids known as alcoholic beverages.

Now, the state lottery commission is to have a special drawing, in the GAME. The drawing is to be on December 27th, and advertisements are appearing, with Santa Claus in prominent position. In fact the drawing is being called the Santa Claus Game.

Drink not, my child, but go ahead and spend daddy's payroll on a gamble! The Commonwealth has got Santa Claus to approve of the idea.

NEW BOOKS IN THE WILMINGTON LIBRARY

Home and Home Again by George and Helen Papashvily. George Papashvily left his village in Russia forty years ago. He came to America and fulfilled the immigrant's dream of success. He always remembered his boyhood home, and finally he returned with his wife. This memoir of his reunion with friends, family and the Russian land is both amusing and touching.

Raising Small Animals for Fun and Profit by Paul Villiard. Almost anyone can raise and market small animals and with very little investment. From protozoa to mink, this book explains where to get breeding stock, how to care for and breed the animals and where the market is.

The School Book by Neil Postman and Charles Weingartner. How important are reading grade levels? What does "behavior modification" mean? This book is addressed to parents, the amateur educators whose most important possessions must be placed in the hands of professionals.

The Anderson Papers by Jack Anderson. From ITT to the Eagleton affair to the India-Pakistan war, Anderson reveals not only how he broke these recent stories, but more important, he tells the stories in unprecedented detail.

The True Sound of Music by Hans Fandel. This is a practical guide to sound equipment for the home. It takes the mystery out of technical double-talk, and explains new developments like quadraphonics to sort out genuine progress from planned obsolescence. This is a reliable source book for the prospective stereo buyer.

As We Are Now by May Sarton. This short swift blow of a novel deals with an old woman trying to keep alive in a nursing home in a remote country place. With dignity, intelligence and wit, May Sarton portrays the problems of the old.

The Revenge of Annie Charlie by Alan Fry. This is a modern detective story laced with comedy and tragedy. The tragedy concerns the white-Indian relations in the Canadian Rockies. The comedy involves the solving of a murder case by the chief's daughter.

Stranger at the Gates by Evelyn Anthony. American born Comtesse Louise de Bernard is the focal point of this novel that sweeps from Bonn to the chateau country of France. The author of the Poellenberg Inheritance again proves herself mistress of the suspense novel.

Says property I.D. prevents thefts

Tewksbury police Inspector Kenneth Hague believes much fewer items would be stolen in housebreaks if residents took advantage of property identification items available at the police station. Another key to fighting crime, Hague says, is for residents to report suspicious activities around the scenes of housebreaks.

Residents, at no cost, will be provided an engraving device at the police station together with stickers stating items kept in the home are marked with identification numbers. Lists for recording identification numbers of valuable items will also be available.

With the engraving device, residents can mark identification numbers such as social security numbers on valuable items. They then can place stickers on windows and doors notifying potential criminals that all items kept in their homes are easily identified.

Hague says at the least, residents should keep records of identification numbers on items so marked.

Thieves are less likely to steal items marked with identification numbers, Hague says, because receivers of stolen goods don't want to accept them. In addition, he says, police have difficulties returning unmarked stolen goods.

Hague says town police are discouraged by the apparent reluctance of many residents to report suspicious activity occurring near the scene of housebreaks.

"A lot of these are occurring in broad daylight, so somebody must be seeing something, although few people are reporting anything to us," Hague commented.

Skin grafting is often a good way to repair damage to large areas of the skin.

Skin is a wonderful substance able to regenerate itself.

That is what makes it possible for physicians to move pieces of skin to areas of the body that have been damaged.

The skin transplanted immediately begins to grow new cells around itself, and soon the wounded area is covered with completely new skin. For this process we are indebted to modern science.

For every day good skin care visit Silver Lake Pharmacy, 52 Main St., Wilmington for a wonderful selection of creams, lotions and medications for healthy beautiful skin. Cosmetics and men's toiletries. Free prescription pick up and delivery service. Open seven days a week from 9 am to 10 pm. Phone 658-4617.

THE LAWRENCE C. SWAIN FARM: On Federal Street, Wilmington, from which, about 75 years ago, 25 meat wagons left every morning to sell beef in Lynn and environs. The slaughterhouse is the building in back of the new addition to the farmhouse, and the barn is at right.

In 1900 the barn was valued at $1500, the farmhouse at $900 and the slaughterhouse at $650 by the Wilmington Assessors. In other words the barn was worth almost as much as the slaughterhouse and the farmhouse put together!

Now the property of the David Jones family, the house is being enlarged. The farmhouse was originally a Gowing house, built some time about 1800.

When you've just bought a new car, your best bet is to buy the best sort of gasoline - that recommended by the manufacturer. Listen closely as you feed in gasoline after slowing to about 25 miles an hour.

If you hear a "ping", sources say it's time to switch to a premium grade, or to have the ignition timing checked. An octane that's too low may possible damage engine parts and may not burn completely.

When it's time for you to switch to New England's largest and finest Ford dealership, Wilmington Ford, 275 Main St., Rte. 38, Wilmington, 658-6800 well known for our integrity and reliability. Our outstanding service dept. features expert mechanics who constantly attend Ford's school to insure that they are up-to-date with the latest in automotive and repair techniques. Hours: sales, 9 - 10 Mon-Fri; 8 - 6 Sat; service, 7:30-9 Mon-Fri; 7:30 - 5 Sat.

Helpful Hint: If spark plug wires are hard, brittle, or cracked, they should be replaced.

WILMINGTON RECREATION TIDBITS

Girls Ice Hockey: The Recs opened their MVGHL season on a winning note last Sunday night, posting a 5-1 triumph over Andover. The goal tending tandem of Cindy Laquidara and Kathy Bristol played a major factor in the victory as the Gold sextet were out shot by the Squaws, 28-15. Five different players lit the scoring lamp in a team effort. The Recs broke open a close 2-1 game scoring three times within a span of two minutes in the second frame. The summary follows:

Recs 2 3 0 5

First Period: W-Cushing (Welch), 5:46; Blaisdell (un), 10:39.

Tewksbury/Wilmington Breakfast set

The Tewksbury-Wilmington Elks will sponsor a breakfast for both the A and B teams of Tewksbury and Wilmington this Sunday, November 4th at 9 am. The breakfast will take place in the Elks Hall in Tewksbury.

Option pass tumbles Chargers

Sun. Oct. 28: The Newton Patriots paid a well enjoyed visit to the WHS field and handed the Charger "A" squad a 14-6 defeat. It seemed no one wanted the ball in the opening moments of the contest, as each team fumbled the ball the first time they got their hands on it. A Mark Holloway aerial was intercepted by the Patriots on their own 34 yard line, and this set the stage for the visitors to march 66 yards downfield for the opening score. Dan Taylor plunged one yard for the score, and the conversion pass was intercepted by Ed Costello.

With second down and 15 yards to go, a 55 yard option pass to a wide open Newton receiver paved the way for the second Patriot score. Chuck Matthews did an excellent job of catching up with the receiver and bringing him down on the fourteen yard line. Two plays later, a five yard run put Newton ahead 12-0, and the complete point after pass upped the score to 14-0. Wilmington had a chance to score earlier in the second frame, but the effective Newton defenders held up on their own one yard line.

Early in the third frame, Coach Cleary's eleven took over a missed punt on the Newton 21 yard line and marched in to stop the Patriots shutout bid. Holloway connected with Matthews on a seven yard pass for the Charger

WILDCAT TALES

Varsity booters clinch second crown

The varsity booters clinched their second straight Northern League crown Tuesday afternoon with a hard fought 3-0 triumph over rugged Billerica.

Andover's encounter with Peabody was postponed, but the outcome does not make any difference to the champion Wildcat eleven.

Junior goalie Chuck Wood was outstanding in the nets stopping 13 Indian shots to pick up his ninth shut-out of the season. Chris DiCecca's penalty kick late in the opening frame turned out to be the eventual game winner, while Rick Diehl and John Harrison (a going concern all afternoon), put the frosting on the cake with single markers in the final stanza.

The Wildcats now move into tournament play with the opening round taking place next Monday afternoon. The pairings for the EMass affair will be made this weekend.

Last Thursday afternoon the Golden Warriors snapped the varsity's twelve game unbeaten streak with a 4-0 drubbing of the injury riddled Wildcat club. Andover jumped out to an early 2-0 lead and kept the pressure on the varsity throughout and the championship hopes of Coach Lentine's eleven took a turn for the worse. However, on a rain soaked turf Tuesday the Wildcats came out running and made sure that the league title remained in Wilmington for another season.

Distaffs Co-Champs???

The varsity field hockey squad closed out their regular season Tuesday afternoon battling Andover to a scoreless tie and now the two clubs are knotted for the conference league with identical 5-1-2 records.

As of this writing it is not known if the two schools will share the MVC title or if there will be a playoff. In their two outings last week the distaffs shut-out their opponents to set up the crucial Andover encounter.

Wed. Oct. 24...Lori McNabb fired home her second and third seasonal markers to spark the varsity to a 3-0 triumph over arch-rival Tewksbury. Tammy Oliveira chipped in with her eighth seasonal goal to provide the final margin of victory. Excellent defensive efforts were turned in by Carlene Butler and Gail Irwin to preserve the distaffs second consecutive shut out.

In the jayvee encounter the girls battled to a scoreless tie with Karen McVicker and Laura Miller playing well on defense.

Fri. Oct. 26...Constant persistence by Leslie Arnold set up Lori McNabb's game winning marker in the first half to lead the varsity girls to their third straight win, 3-0 over Methuen. In the closing minutes of the first half Lori fired home her fifth seasonal goal and fourth in two games to put the game out of reach. Great defensive work by Captain Butler, Mary Ann Langone and Kathy Sullivan kept the distaffs on the attack most of the contest.

The junior varsity held the Methuen girls to a scoreless tie as Sally Irwin, Laurie Fosgate and Gail Smith played well in front of goalie Sharon Botelho, who was making her debut in goal.

Fresh demolish Austin

Fri. Oct. 26: The Wildcat freshmen played excellent defense picking off three Cougar arials and recovering a fumble enroute to a 24-0 rout of Austin Prep. The wheels weren't on the ground for either squad as Wilmington held the Austin eleven to minus 14 yards rushing, while Coach Racioppi's boys could only mount 48 yards.

Bob Sferazza returned the opening kickoff 32 yards to the Austin 34, and eight plays later, Jim Stewart drilled a seven yard pass to Brian Murphy for the opening score of the game. Stewart passed to Kevin Harrington for the conversion, and Wilmington led, 8-0.

Ray Gaud pounced on a Cougar fumble on Austin's one yard line halfway through the fourth quarter, and Stewart scored on the next play. Sferazza notched the Sat. Oct. 27...In their initial gridiron meeting, the Wildcats edged the Cougars, 6-0, on the strength of Paul Fitch's 32 yard scamper late in the game.

Wildcats nip Cougars

Austin took the opening kickoff at their own 28 and marched to the Wildcats 17 in eleven plays and looked like a long afternoon for the varsity. However, the defense stiffened with Jack Holloway sacking Cougar quarterback Charlie Gaudet on a fourth and three from the 17 to end Austin's best scoring chance of the afternoon.

The remainder of the first half was a punting dual between Gaudet and Stewart as the defensive units became very stingy. On two occasions in the second quarter the Wildcats turned the ball over on fumbles to thwart their own chances of moving the ball with any consistency.

The third frame was a continuation of the previous two quarters as the clubs exchanged four punts. The best scoring drive occurred late in the stanza when the Wildcats moved to the Cougars 39 following Doug Stewart's 27 yard punt return to set the varsity up in excellent field position at their own 49. Another costly turnover hurt, as Fitch took a pitch from Butler and moved for an apparent first down only to fumble the ball with Austin's Chris DiGammermo recovering at the 39.

The Cougars were unable to get their offense untracked and had to punt out from their 30. Gaudet's kick against the wind flew backward and the Wildcats took over the Austin 26. Three running plays moved the ball to the 11 and on a first down play Butler hit Tom Woods with a pass at the goal line, but Woods could hold on to the pigskin. On the next play Austin's Tom Marino dropped Butler for a ten yard loss and on an incomplete fourth down pass play the Cougars had stopped the Wildcats.

On the ensuing series of downs the Cougars were unable to move the ball as key defensive plays by Dana Mullarky and Rick Howlett forced Gaudet into his eighth punt. Taking over at the Austin 47 it took only two plays for the Wildcats to score the winning tid.

Dean Devlin swept left end for 15 yards before being forced out of bounds at the 32 by Ed Misk. On the next play Fitch took a quick pitch from Butler skirted the right side of the Cougar line, cut back to his left at the 25 and out raced four Cougar defenders to the end zone. Stewart's placement went wide to the left and the varsity was on top, 6-0 with five minutes to play.

In the waning moments of the game the Wildcats had two golden opportunities to blow the game wide open, but the Cougar defense line stiffened on both occasions.

two point conversion, and this upped the home team's margin to 16-0.

Dino Esposito picked off an Austin Prep pass on the Cougars 47 yard line in the waning moments of the game and sprinted past everyone into the endzone to notch the third Wildcat td. Jim Stewart flipped a screen pass to Bill Bibeau who cut one way and ran the other for the conversion.

The Wilmington frosh are now boasting a 4-1 record behind the strength of their third shutout of the season. The Wildcats will journey to Billerica tomorrow for their last road game of the season.

Cross-country closes season on losing note

Wed. Oct. 24...In a battle for third place the Chelmsford Harriers handed the Wildcats a 24-31 defeat to bring both clubs into a tie for the runner up spot to Andover and Tewksbury.

It was a close 12-9 score with the Lions on top after six runners had crossed the tape, but Chelmsford broke the meet open gaining the seventh and eighth places. Tony Gravelle turned in another good performance in his second varsity event.

The jayvees topped the Lions in the preliminary meet by a 26-31 score with Brian Callahan (1st) and John McNaughton (3rd) leading the way. The younger Wildcats gained the sixth, seventh, ninth and 10th spots on the strength of the running of Jim Connor, Tom Bromander, Mike Tyner and Chris Burke to win their sixth seasonal meet.

REDMEN SCALPINGS

Andover bombs Redmen

It was another case of a well-oiled football machine taking it to a gutsy group of Redmen as the Golden Warriors of Andover trampled Tewksbury 28-7 Saturday afternoon at Andover High School.

Tewksbury was never really in the contest as the offense, led by Dave Smith and promising sophomore Tom Sullivan, failed to move the football. The Redmen didn't manage a first down until halfway through the second quarter of action.

Andover took the opening kickoff and worked the option play to perfection as Bill Alexander chewed up big yardage. The Redmen managed to stop Andover at the Tewksbury 27, but this series clearly pointed out Andover's edge over Tewksbury.

On Andover's next series it took the Golden Warriors seven plays to reach paydirt. Starting on their own 33, senior quarterback Mark Sweetser ran the option play to the 42. A slant pass to big Glenn Verrette picked up a first down at the Tewksbury 48.

George Stedman swept right on the next play as he carried to the 44 before being dropped by Billy McCann. Another quick pass by Sweetser to T-J Stamas picked up a first down at the 37. Then two runs by Stedman and Alexander brought Andover yet another first down on the 25. A brilliant run by the hard-driving Stedman from this point gave Andover the lead 7-0. Stedman sprinted down the right sideline as the Tewksbury fans sensed that the lamb was being led to the slaughter. Hugh Conlon's kick was good and with 2:01 left in the opening period Andover led 7-0.

The second Andover score came after a Tewksbury mistake. Quarterback Dave Smith's lame duck pass was gobbled up by junior linebacker Bill Kenney at the Redmen 30. Six plays later the game was over for all intents and purposes. After a tipped pass Bill Alexander went off-tackle to the 25.

A slant pass to Glenn Verrette was incomplete and it was fourth and five for Andover. On the next play Sweetser threw to Alexander who rambled down to 11. The quarter ended with Alexander sweeping left to the four. Speedy Mike Noel banged over for Andover's second score to open the second quarter. The kick was true and Andover led 14-0.

Andover forced Tewksbury to punt as the second half opened and proceeded to chew up time with a powerful drive. This drive was highlighted by the bull-like runs of fullback Bob McCarthy. With just 1:49 left in the third quarter McCarthy carried three Tewksbury tacklers into the endzone and it was Andover 21, Tewksbury 0.

A bad snap on a Tewksbury punt led to Andover's final score as Bob McCarthy recovered the ball on the Tewksbury 26. Five plays later McCarthy powered into the endzone and it looked like the Redmen would be blanked again as they trailed 28-0.

Tom Morin would have no part of being shutout for the fourth time as he scored his sixth touchdown of the year with less than two minutes left to play. Scott Audette's kick was good and Tewksbury at least prevented being shutout for the fourth time this year.

Harriers share Title

Coach Mike Dailey's Tewksbury cross country team rapped up a share of its second Merrimack Valley Conference Championship in three years as the Redmen outran Dracut 23-32 to finish in a first place deadlock with Andover, both with identical 7-1 records.

The Tewksbury team had posted earlier wins over Andover and Wilmington with one point margin scores while its only loss was to Austin Prep by one point. The Tewksbury Andover score was 28 to 29 while the Tewksbury Wilmington score was 27 to 28 in the plus for the Tewksbury Redmen.

The Austin loss posted a 28 to 29 situation. The Tewksbury squad posted wins over Billerica (19 to 40), Tyngsboro (15-50), Chelmsford (23-43), Methuen (18-41) and Dracut (26-32). Andover had only the one loss which was to co-champion Tewksbury as the Redmen posted their fourth straight dual meet win over the Golden Warriors.

In looking over the final standings (pg. 8) the league Conference meet will be interesting. Tewksbury and Andover could easily be upset as Wilmington lost a pointer to Andover and Tewksbury. Austin Prep has not had a complete team all season and Chelmsford could be the league upsetter as they just topped Wilmington and ran a close pointer against Andover.

Two teams at five wins and three losses could make it go to almost anyone of the front leaders. Tewksbury and Andover will be running in Division II of the Massachusetts State Cross Country Meet at Boston.

One acceptable way is to check recent sales of similar homes in the community. If you find, however, that recently there has been a lot of sales activity in a given area, it might be a good idea to find out why.

Perhaps some unwanted business or industry is moving into the area. If you cannot discover the value of a house any other way consult a professional appraiser.

Land taken for new high school

Papers were filed, during the past week, in the Middlesex Registry of Deeds, in which the Town of Wilmington has taken, by eminent domain, land for a new high school north of Salem Street, and adjacent to the Wildcat Railroad.

About 100 acres of land are involved, a good portion of which is swampy. The former owners of the land taken are being offered $1,000 per acre, which is a pro-forma offer, and which can be increased through court action.

The Wilmington selectmen signed the order of taking, in their meeting of a week ago.

Due to the very little time for preparations, this first Homecoming Day venture will not be elaborate. It will be a small attempt to honor the parents of the players on this year's football team. They will be invited to sit together in a reserved section of the stands, will be given a souvenir of the occasion, and will be the guests of the Varsity Club along with their sons following the game, at an informal reception.

This will be the first social event sponsored by the club. Time limitation decrees that this will not be a major undertaking in the scope of the program, but it is felt that from this small beginning, Homecoming Day can grow to be an event on significance to the Wilmington community. Hopefully next year planning will get started earlier. Future Homecoming Day festivities, hopefully will include the field hockey, soccer, and cross country teams. Membership on these squads exceeds 125 athletes, a clear indication that enthusiasm for sports at Wilmington High School is still growing.

All alumni of Wilmington High School are invited to return to their alma mater, enjoy a fall afternoon of football, renew old acquaintances and make a few new friends.

As was said, there are no visible chisel marks in the foundation stones of the Harnden Tavern. There is a possibility that they were, instead, imported from England. In such a case English artisans might possibly have faced the chisel marks.

The committee seems to feel that the foundation stones were so imported. Imported stones, in 1775, in a building being built for speculation? In a house where there were nearby fieldstones that could be cut up and used?

It doesn't all add up - unless: Did Ebenezer Jones build a house in 1775, and then later did that house burn down, and in 1795 did Colonel Harnden build over the old site, using some of the old bricks as well as more Bristol Brick, imported for the fireplaces, as well as cut English granite, for which seemingly he had the money to pay - seeing that he built in the more expensive Georgian style?

That could account for the Bristol Brick in the chimney foundation, and it could account for those magnificent arches in that same foundation. That seems to be an answer to the questions raised by (1) The Rev. Mr. Noyes and (2) The Wilmington Historical Committee.
